PARENTING RESOURCES IN CROYDON

Tired of tantrums? Struggling with bedtime routines? Concerned about your teenager?

Being a parent can be a struggle. That's why at times, parents need a little extra help with managing family life and the challenges of parenthood.

This booklet gives you an overview of the parenting resources available to parents and carers in Croydon, including online material, free helplines and group parenting programmes.

No two families are the same, which is why we aim to offer a wide range of resources to parents.

The resources and services you can access will depend on the age of your child, your family's needs and ultimately, your own preferences.

WHAT ARE PARENTING PROGRAMMES?

Parenting programmes can help you gain new skills to manage challenging behaviour, resolve family conflict, improve communication and reduce stress in the family home.

They also give you an opportunity to share your experiences with other parents, build your own support networks and simply take some time out to look after yourself.

DO I NEED TO PAY?

Parenting programmes are free to attend for all Croydon parents and carers. Many programmes also offer free crèche spaces for children under 5.

ANY MORE QUESTIONS?
